

SFL Data Partners with Cobra Legal Solutions

e-Discovery Managed Service Provider Adds Offshore Attorney Review to Enable Clients to Reduce Costs, Increase Efficiency

San Francisco, Calif. – March 29, 2011 – SFL Data, the first provider of a fixed-price e-discovery managed service to corporations and law firms, has formed a strategic partnership with Cobra Legal Solutions. This association combines Cobra's offshore attorney review process with SFL Data's data management capabilities to enable law firms and corporations to reduce e-discovery costs and increase efficiency.

"As e-discovery demands grow, litigants need a comprehensive process that delivers defensible results on deadline. Our partnership with SFL Data gives their clients the option of using offshore attorney review that will work seamlessly with the e-discovery process," said Cobra Legal Solutions CEO Candice Corby.

Using the services of offshore attorneys monitored by Cobra during all stages of review can provide clients with additional reviewers when needed at a lower overall cost. U.S. lawyers, with U.S. training and experience, supervise the offshore legal team and interface with clients and outside counsel to provide seamless service. It is the latest addition to the end-to-end e-discovery services, from preservation through production, SFL Data provides law firms and corporations.

"Partnering with Cobra Legal Solutions enables us to help our clients meet their litigation demands. For more than a decade, we've provided services to maximize the efficient review of electronically stored information. Now with Cobra's team of offshore reviewers, we can offer an additional solution for reducing costs without compromising quality," said SFL Data CEO Christian Lawrence.
